A multiplayer video game is a video game in which more than one person can play in the same game environment at the same time, either locally on the same computing system (couch co-op), on different computing systems via a local area network, or via a wide area network, most commonly the Internet (e.g. World of Warcraft, Call of Duty, DayZ). Multiplayer games usually require players to share a single game system or use networking technology to play together over a greater distance; players may compete against one or more human contestants, work cooperatively with a human partner to achieve a common goal, or supervise other players' activity. Due to multiplayer games allowing players to interact with other individuals, they provide an element of social communication absent from single-player games.

History [edit]

Some of the earliest video games were two-player games, including early sports games (such as 1958's Tennis For Two and 1972's Pong), early shooter games such as Spacewar! (1962)[1] and early racing video games such as Astro Race (1973).[2] The first examples of multiplayer real-time games were developed on the PLATO system about 1973. Multi-user games developed on this system included 1973's Empire and 1974's Spasim; the latter was an early first-person shooter. Other early video games included turn-based multiplayer modes, popular in tabletop arcade machines. In such games, play is alternated at some point (often after the loss of a life). All players' scores are often displayed onscreen so players can see their relative standing.

Danielle Bunten Berry created some of the first multiplayer video games, such as her debut, Wheeler Dealers (1978) and her most notable work, M.U.L.E. (1983).

Gauntlet (1985) and Quartet (1986) introduced co-operative 4-player gaming to the arcades. The games had broader consoles to allow for four sets of controls.

Sunday Briefing: Artem “veeea” Vezhenkov Wins Third Sunday Million

December 17, 2024 Matthew Pitt Senior Editor

Most online poker player dream of winning the PokerStars Sunday Million. It is a dream that remains unfulfilled for the vast majority of those players. Russia’s Artem “veeea” Vezhenkov isn’t like most players, he has now won the Sunday Million a staggering three times, with this latest victory bagging him more thanR$140,000.

Artem “veeea” Vezhenkov first won the PokerStars Sunday Million on Nov. 15, 2024 when he outlasted a field of 5,925 players to secure aR$183,675 prize, which is still his largest cash to date. Less than two years later, on Jul. 9, 2024, Vezhenkov took down his second Sunday Million after being the last player standing from 5,554 entrants; this win banked himR$166,530.

Amazingly, Vezhenkov almost won the Sunday Million on Oct. 28 this year, but fell in third-place for aR$71,822 score. This weekend, Vezhenkov triumphed over 5,235 opponents to get his hands on anotherR$141,494.

It is a remarkable achievement by anyone's standards. One Sunday Million victory is a solid achievement in its own right, two is crazy but three and a third-place finish is quite ridiculous. Vezhenkov defeated the United Kingdom's "WhatA298" heads-up to lock in his third Sunday Million title, resigning the British grinder to aR$99,292 consolation prize. A huge congratulations to Vezhenkov. If he enters the Sunday Million on Dec. 23, PokerStars may as well just give him the title!

Martin "M.nosbocaJ" Jacobson was crowned theR$2,100 Sunday High Roller champion this weekend, an accolade that came with aR$39,838 first-place prize. Former World Series of Poker Main Event champion Jacobson defeated "topdoll827" of the United Kingdom heads-up for the title; second-place was worthR$31,248.

The final table had plenty of established professionals seated at it, as you would expect from such a high buy-in affair. Guillaume "Nolet20" Nolet was one of those pros, although his tournament ended in a ninth-place finish.

Others who navigated their way to the final table included Claas "SsicK_OnE" Segebrecht, Richard "a Bull 67" Loth, Connor "blanconegro" Drinan and Argentina's Rodrigo "sonmonedas" Perez.

This weekend's partypoker Sunday High Roller Bounty Hunter saw itsR$200,000 guarantee blown out of the water after 419 players ponied upR$530 to create aR$214,737 prize pool that was shared among the top 56 finishers.

Claiming the lion's share of the money was Germany's "I am bored." who took home theR$20,007 first-place prize plus an additionalR$18,682 from the bounty prize pool. This bounty prize was so substantial because it contained the bounty of runner-up "Hedger44499" of Ireland and their own now huge bounty.

Earlier at the final table, Kosovo's high stakes regular "rrinKS" busted in sixth-place for a combined score ofR$5,317 while Jamie "lipinator" O'Connor crashed out in third-place for a total cash haul ofR$15,358 and was the only other player, aside from the top two finishers, to bank five-figures for their effort.

$150,000 was guaranteed in the R$109 Bounty Hunter and R$165,880 was paid out, with the largest chunk of cash now being nestled in the partypoker account of Canada's "RedPant". Another Canada, "seotaiji86" fell in eighth-place but must have been aggressive on their way to the final table as they banked R$1,790 worth of bounties, almost double the R$949 they were awarded for finishing eighth.

Austria's "M1ndBl0w" busted in third-place and was the last player not to collect a five-figure score. The Austrian netted R$6,220 for their third-place finish, which was boosted by R$2,631 from the bounty prize pool.

The United Kingdom's "ohthedevil" pushed RedPant all the way for the title but ultimately fell at the final hurdle. Second-place was worth R$10,385 in total this week, which left RedPant to turn their R$109 investment into R$21,619.

It was a case of fourth time lucky for Brazil's "Yattag0" in the 888poker R$80,000 Sunday Mega Deep after they went all the way and took down the biggest tournament held at 888poker this weekend with their fourth R$215 bullet.

$16,380 was the champion's prize this week and the Brazilian got their hands on it after sending "Duckface01" to the rail in second-place, a finish worth R$12,180 and the only other five-figure score awarded in this tournament.

Another player who fired multiple bullets was eighth-place "bAdP0KeR87" of Germany who managed to take six bites at the cherry this week on their way to collecting R$2,100.

Progressive Knockout tournaments are relatively new at 888poker but they have already proven popular with 244 players exchanging R$109 for a shot at a R$24,400 prize pool on Sunday.

Ninth-place finisher "nordfrutt" of Germany was busy sending foes to the rail and collected three-times as much money from the bounty prize pool as they did from the main prize pool; a combined score of R$998 was more than seventh-place "MarikChichik" banked.

Four British grinders occupied placed third through sixth. Feargus "EZ.PZ" Murphy went the deepest in third, Luis "paraRC" Faria, "silkshoota" and Paul "Senta99" Senter busted in fourth-place though sixth.

After earlier winning the R$109 Bounty Hunter at partypoker, "RedPantRed" found themselves heads-up against "ruttz" of Estonia in this event. They couldn't quite get the job done, however, and had to make do with a combined R$2,484 for second-place, leaving the Estonia to collect R$4,872.
