LD deal was reportedly worth UK£7.5m per season

English top-flight soccer

outfit Southampton have extended their partnership with Sportsbet.io, the multicurrency sports betting firm, which will continue as the club's shirt sponsor for a further three years.

Sportsbet.io, which is part of the Coingaming Group, initially came on board with the Saints last August, replacing LD Sports at short notice when the Chinese brand's three-year deal was ended after just one season.

At the time, a statement from Southampton said they were 'left with no alternative' but to end the partnership.

Earlier reports had suggested LD's exit had been 'influenced' by political tension between China and the UK, with the company also purportedly having a break clause that could be activated last summer.

Sportsbet.io's original deal was due to expire at the end of the current season, but the renewal means the company will continue as the Saints' main club partner until the end of the 2024/24 campaign.

Financial terms of the new arrangement have not been disclosed, but Southampton have described the deal as 'the biggest sponsorship agreement in the club's history'. The club added that it also includes the option for them to be paid certain performance-based bonuses in the cryptocurrency Bitcoin at the end of each season.

The Saints' previous deal with LD was reportedly worth UK£7.5 million (US$10.3 million) per year.

"The team at Sportsbet.io have built a successful business by challenging convention and disrupting the market, but in a responsible way, and their approach to our partnership with them has been no different," said David Thomas, Southampton's chief commercial officer.

"In a short timeframe they've proven to be innovative, forward thinking and extremely supportive of the club, our fans and the wider community, and we've welcomed the opportunity to develop and promote safe gambling messages together. As such they have become valued partners and we look forward to the next chapter together."

Maarja Pärt, chief executive of the Coingaming Group, added: "Our first season as Southampton FC's main club partner has already exceeded all expectations. We've been inspired by the passion of the club and its fans, and it was an easy decision for us to extend our partnership with the Saints for another three years.

"From the beginning, Southampton have been a perfect match for the fun, fast and fair way we do things at Sportsbet.io. We can't wait to continue this journey with the Saints, and we'll be doing everything we can to support the team and its community into the future."

The announcement comes as the UK government continues its review of the country's gambling laws. Anti-gambling campaigners are calling on tighter restrictions to limit the amount of betting sponsorship in sports.
