So 7 much so that it is arguably the most popular online poker game at this time, so new and fun varieties 7 of this traditional poker game are now entering the poker world. One among them happens to be double flop Texas 7 Hold'em.

The rules and structure of double Flop Texas Hold'em are quite similar to standard Texas Hold'em, except there are more 7 than 5 community cards in this game. In this post, we have covered everything there is to know about double-flop 7 Texas Hold'em.

Double flop Texas

Hold'em is another variation of standard Hold'em wherein two sets of community cards are dealt separately 7 on what is commonly known as the "upper board" and "lower board." While playing double flop Texas Hold'em online, the 7 upper and lower board rules will be made available to you at the game's onset. The players, after that, can 7 use the cards from either the whole upper board or the whole lower board to make their best 5-card hand 7 combination. Other than this, double-flop Texas Hold'em game is more or less similar to standard Texas Hold'em in almost all 7 other aspects.

Double-flop Texas

Hold'em rules are similar to standard Texas Hold'em, though with minor exceptions. Now, the rules for Texas 7 Hold'em double flop are as follows:

1) The double flop Texas

Hold'em game is usually played using a standard deck of 7 52 cards.

2) In this game, each player is dealt two face-down cards, called hole cards.

- 3) Then, five community cards
- are 7 dealt, face up three at once, then another on both the upper and lower board separately.
- 4) All players in 7 the game after that use the five community cards from either the upper or lower board in conjunction with their 7 two-hole cards to make the best possible five-card poker hand (community cards + hole cards)
- 5) In the case of double 7 flop Texas Hold'em, the player who makes the best 5-card hand using a combination of the hole cards and community 7 cards generally wins the pot.

The

step-by-step procedure for playing double-flop Texas Hold'em is as follows:

At the beginning of double flop 7 Texas Hold'em, two players are appointed as the small blind and big blind. Both players contribute pre-decided money to the 7 pot before the cards are dealt. It is a matter of rather common knowledge that the small blind is usually 7 half the big blind. For instance, if the small blind puts inR$5, the big blind has to put in a 7 bet ofR$10.

After every round of Texas Hold'em double flop, new players are assigned as the small blind and big blind, 7 and thus, every player gets a chance to contribute a fair amount of money to the game. Once the blinds 7 are placed, each player is assigned two cards, otherwise known as hole cards.

Once the hole cards are assigned, the first 7 betting round in double-flop Texas Hold'em begins. In this round, the player designated as "under the gun" in standard poker 7 language generally acts first. Now, this player usually has three options:

Call - To call is to make a bet equal 7 to the amount of the big blind

Raise - To raise is to double the amount of the big blind

- 7 To fold is to discard the cards and become ineligible for the current hand The betting after that moves on successively 7 from one player to another, and all the players usually have the same options - call, raise or fold.

Once 7 the first betting round ends, 3 community cards are dealt on both the upper and lower boards face up, and 7 a player can use either the cards from the upper or lower board to make his best 5-card hand combination. 7 However, always remember you cannot do a mix and match of cards from both boards. The second betting round will 7 begin, and all the players can call, fold or raise again. The players in this round can also check, which 7 means passing the action of betting to the player right next to the player currently betting.

Once the betting in the 7 double flop round ends, one more card is dealt face-up on both the upper and lower boards. This card is 7 commonly known as the "turn" card. Simply put, there are now 4 community cards each available on both the upper 7 and lower boards for the players to make their best 5 card hand combination.

The betting round will begin, and players 7 can call, raise, check, or fold again. Assuming you are playing limit double flop Texas Hold'em, the amount of your 7 initial bet will now be doubled for this round and the next. For instance - if the amount of the 7 initial big blind wasR$10, then now it will beR$20. After that, to call a person now has to bet onlyR$20; 7 to raise, the amount will beR$40 for this and the next round.

Once the betting for the "turn" rounds ends, the 7 fifth and final community card is dealt on both the upper and lower board face up. To summarize, there are 7 5 community cards each on both the upper and lower boards. The betting rules for the "River" round are broadly 7 applied the same way as in the case of "flop" and "turn."

As soon as the "River" round ends. After that,

7 all the players enter into a showdown. The showdown is the final round in double flop Texas Hold'em, and in 7 this round, the player with the best 5-card hand combination (hole cards + community cards) generally wins the pot. The 7 double flop Texas Hold'em is usually played in two distinct ways:

1) In the first case, the winners of both the

7 upper and lower boards usually share the amount of the pot.

2) In the second case, one absolute winner is declared 7 from both boards and gets the whole pot.

You might have realized by now that double-flop Texas Hold'em is quite similar 7 to standard Texas Hold'em in more aspects than one. Thus, akin to Texas Hold'em, this game is not just fun 7 to play and easy to learn but also offers the distinct advantage of being one of the easiest poker games 7 to win.
