Hold 'em is a popular form of poker in the USA.

Poker is a game which people play with a normal set (or deck) of 52 cards. Poker is a gambling game which involves some luck, but also some skill. In poker, players make bets against each other depending on the value of their poker hand. Bets are usually made with plastic or ceramic discs called chips. Bets may also be made with coins or cash, but chips are more often used because they are easier to handle and count. At the end of the game, players may swap their chips for money. If the players are not playing for real money, the chips are counted at the end of the game to determine the order of winners.

There are many different kinds of poker. In draw poker, each player is dealt five cards. A player can decide to throw away a number of these cards and then take (draw) new cards to replace them.

In stud poker (for example, seven-card stud), some of each player's cards are laid (face-up) on the table so that the other players can see them. In community card poker (for example, Texas hold 'em), players share some of their cards in the center of the table.[1]

The history of poker

is a matter of some debate. The name of the game likely descended from the French poque, which descended from the German pochen ('to knock'), but it is not clear whether the origins of poker itself lie with the games bearing those names. It closely resembles the Persian game of as nas, and may have been taught to French settlers in New Orleans by Persian sailors. It is commonly regarded as sharing ancestry with the Renaissance game of primero and the French brelan. The English game brag (earlier bragg) clearly descended from brelan and incorporated bluffing (though the concept was known in other games by that time). It is quite possible that all of these earlier games influenced the development of poker as it exists now.

English actor Joseph

Crowell reported that the game was played in New Orleans in 1829, with a deck of 20 cards, four players betting on which player's hand was the most valuable. Jonathan H. Green's book, An Exposure of the Arts and Miseries of Gambling (G. B. Zieber, Philadelphia, 1843), described the spread of the game from there to the rest of the country by Mississippi riverboats, on which gambling was a common pastime.

Soon after this spread, the full 52-card English deck was used, and the flush was introduced. During the American Civil War, many additions were made, including draw poker, stud poker (the five-card variant), and the straight. Further American developments followed, such as the wild card (around 1875), lowball and split-pot poker (around 1900), and community card poker games (around 1925). Spread of the game to other countries, particularly in Asia, is often attributed to the U.S. military.

The game and jargon of poker have become important parts of American culture and English culture. Such phrases as ace in the hole, beats me, blue chip, call the bluff, cash in, pass the buck, poker face, stack up, up the ante, when the chips are down, wild card, and others are used in everyday conversation even by those unaware of their origins at the poker table.

Modern tournament play became popular in American casinos after the World Series of Poker began in 1970. It was also during that decade that the first serious strategy books appeared, notably The Theory of Poker by David Sklansky (ISBN 1880685000), Super System by Doyle Brunson (ISBN 1580420818), and The Book of Tells by Mike Caro (ISBN 0897461002).

Poker became more popular early in the 21st century, largely due to the introduction of online poker and the invention of the hole-card camera which finally turned the game into a spectator sport. Viewers could now follow the action and drama of the game, and broadcasts of poker tournaments such as the World Series of Poker and the World Poker Tour brought in large television audiences.

Royal Flush in hearts

The game of poker is played in hundreds of variations, but the following overview of game play applies to most of them.

Depending on the game rules, one or more players may be required to place an initial amount of money into the pot before the cards are dealt. These are called forced bets and come in three forms: antes, blinds, and bring-ins.

Like most card games, the dealer shuffles the deck of cards. The deck is then cut, and the appropriate number of cards are dealt face-down to the players. In a casino a "house" dealer handles the cards for each hand, but a button (any small item used as a marker, also called a buck) is rotated among the players to determine the order of dealing and betting in certain games. In a home game, the right to deal the cards typically rotates among the players clockwise, but a button may still be used.

After the initial deal, the first of what may be several betting rounds begins. Between rounds, the players' hands develop in some way, often by being dealt additional cards or replacing cards previously dealt. During a round of betting, there will always be a current bet amount, which is the total amount of money bet in this round by the player who bet last in this round. To keep better track of this, it is conventional for players to not place their bets directly into the pot (called splashing the pot), but rather place them in front of themselves toward the pot, until the betting round is over. When the round is over, the bets are then gathered into the pot.

After the first betting round is completed (every participating player having called an equal amount), there may be more rounds in which more cards are dealt in various ways, followed by further rounds of betting (into the same central pot). At any time during the first or subsequent betting rounds, if one player makes a bet and all other players fold, the deal ends immediately, the single remaining player is awarded the pot, no cards are shown, no more rounds are dealt, and the next deal begins. This is what makes it possible to bluff.

At the end of the last betting round, if more than one player remains, there is a showdown in which the players reveal their previously hidden cards and evaluate their hands. The player with the best hand according to the poker variant being played wins the pot.

The following are poker hands, from best to worst:

Straight flush : Five cards of the same suit in sequence (if those five are A, K, Q, J, 10; it is a Royal Flush )

Poker chips  [change | change source

Poker chips are small discs. They made by various materials including molded plastic, colored metal molded clays. They are used in table games as play money. Modern poker traces its roots towards the 1800s, and in those days, players used what you could to help keep a tally. Coins, gold dust and nuggets were used until they considered replacing with something which would indicate them. Thus, the casino chips happen to be introduced within the gambling business.

Poker rooms started using casino chips to simply manage the cash and then collect charges. In those days, casino chips were created of ivory, bone, paper wood. However, the most generally used chips were created of composite clay. One problem made an appearance due to the developing casino chips which was cheating. Some players considered sneaking some chips in their hands. To avoid this, manufacturers created differentiated disks. Consequently, a range of styles was created. With time, other manufacturers could use many other materials for making casino chips, for example, plastic and metal.[2]

Há uma vez, há muito tempo, o Google era realmente ótimo

Em tempos muito antigos, na internet - vip sport bet 1998 - o Google era verdadeiramente ótimo. Dois jovens da Stanford University na Califórnia tiveram a ideia de construir um motor de busca que rastresse a World Wide Web, criasse um índice de todos os sites nelas e as classificasse com base no número de links entrantes de outros sites. Em outras palavras, eles construíram um tipo de revisão peer-review automatizada para a web, e isso foi uma revelação para nós, que lutávamos há anos com o AltaVista e outros motores de busca.

O único problema era que o Google inicialmente não tinha um modelo de negócios (parcialmente porque os fundadores não gostavam de publicidade) mas vip sport bet 2000 eles encontraram um. Ele envolveu registrar tudo o que os usuários fizeram na plataforma, analisar o fluxo de dados resultante para que seus verdadeiros clientes - os anunciantes - soubessem o que os usuários poderiam estar interessados.

O modelo veio a ser chamado de capitalismo de vigilância e o Google obteve grandes lucros com isso. Mas depois de um tempo, o processo conhecido como enshittification inevitavelmente se instalou, como aconteceu com todas as plataformas que se engajam nesse tipo de capitalismo. É um processo que acontece da seguinte forma: primeiro, você oferece serviços de alta qualidade para atrair usuários (como o Google fez), vip sport bet seguida, você se desvia para favorecer os clientes comerciais (aumentando assim a lucratividade), antes de finalmente se concentrar vip sport bet maximizar os lucros para os acionistas às custas dos usuários e clientes comerciais.

À medida que o enshittification se desenrola, a experiência dos usuários desafortunados de uma plataforma se deteriora gradualmente e inexoravelmente. Mas a maioria deles suporta isso por inércia e percepção da ausência de algo melhor. O resultado é que, mesmo enquanto o Google se deteriorava gradualmente, ele permaneceu o motor de busca dominante do mundo, com um monopólio vip sport bet muitos mercados vip sport bet todo o mundo; "Google" tornou-se um verbo, bem como um substantivo, e "Googling" agora é um sinônimo de pesquisar online vip sport bet todos os contextos.

A chegada do ChatGPT e seus semelhantes ameaça abalar este carrinho lucrativo. Por um lado, ele certamente perturba o comportamento de pesquisa. Pergunte a um chatbot, como o Perplexity.ai, uma pergunta e ele lhe dá uma resposta. Procure o assunto no Google e ele lhe dá uma lista de sites (incluindo aqueles dos quais ele obtém receita) nos quais você então precisa clicar para fazer progressos.

Por outro lado, se os usuários se deslocarem para chatbots para informações, eles não serão expostos (pelo menos por enquanto) a anúncios de pesquisa lucrativos, que representam uma parte significativa da receita do Google. E ao longo do tempo, a experiência com chatbots mudará as expectativas das pessoas sobre a pesquisa de informações online.

Sobre tudo isso, no entanto, paira o fato de que o zona beta bcp. De repente, a missão do Google - "organizar as informações do mundo e torná-las universalmente acessíveis" - parece uma tarefa muito mais formidável vip sport bet um mundo vip sport bet que a IA pode gerar conteúdos infinitos semelhantes aos humanos.

Uma pista intrigante sobre como o Google pode estar pensando no problema surgiu na semana passada. Vincent Schmalbach, um especialista respeitado vip sport bet otimização de motores de busca (SEO), pensa que o Google decidiu que não pode mais aspirar a indexar todas as informações do mundo. Essa missão foi abandonada: vip sport bet vez disso, a pesquisa do Google será regida por uma sigla: EAT - expertise, authoritativeness, trustworthiness.

O Google já não tenta indexar toda a web

"O Google não está mais tentando indexar toda a web", escreve Schmalbach. "De fato, ele se tornou extremamente seletivo, recusando-se a indexar a maioria do conteúdo. Isso não é sobre criadores de conteúdo não atenderem a algum padrão de qualidade arbitrário. Em vez disso, é uma mudança fundamental no modo como o Google aborda seu papel como motor de busca." O padrão padrão agora será não indexar o conteúdo a menos que ele seja verdadeiramente único, autoritário e tenha "reconhecimento de marca".

"Eles podem indexar conteúdo que eles percebem como verdadeiramente único ou sobre tópicos que não são abordados vip sport bet absoluto", diz Schmalbach. "Mas se você escrever sobre um tópico que o Google considerar remotamente abordado vip sport bet outro lugar, eles provavelmente não o indexarão. Isso pode acontecer mesmo se você for um escritor respeitado com uma grande leitura."

Se isso realmente for o que o Google está fazendo, então você tem que se perguntar o que seus líderes têm fumado. Entre outras coisas, eles propõem construir máquinas que possam avaliar sensivelmente qualidades como expertise, authoritativeness e trustworthiness vip sport bet um mundo online vip sport bet que quase tudo é possível. Alguém poderia levá-los de lado e lembrá-los de que uma empresa de tecnologia tentou algo parecido vip sport bet 1995 e fracassou. Era o Yahoo! Lembro? Eu também não.
